Non-profit financial services and member-directed community service – a concept that benefits everyone!

Give Back

UCT is a non-profit financial services membership organization. You can join UCT and give back in two ways – by becoming a member and engaging in community service projects, or by buying an insurance policy. Our non-profit status means that instead of paying dividends to shareholders, our insurance operations help support members' local community service efforts across the U.S. and Canada.

Get Involved

As a UCT member, you automatically join other members who strive to make a difference in their local communities. Members decide on a local basis which causes and charities to support. Be as active as YOU choose, as a member of an organization that over the past three years:

- Donated more than $3 million to causes
- Awarded more than $300,000 in scholarships
- Volunteered more than 370,000 collective hours of service to communities and causes

Get Rewarded

Whether your membership in UCT starts with community service or an insurance policy, becoming a member of UCT gives you access to a variety of opportunities, discounts and benefits, including:

- Leadership opportunities
- Networking and social opportunities
- Scholarship programs
- Disaster relief
- Discounts on hotel stays, car rentals, office supplies, travel, energy savings, auto financing & more
- Identity theft protection discount
- Prescription card saving program
- Lifeline Screening discount

UCT is an international member-benefit organization uniting people with a common passion for good citizenship and volunteerism to improve their local communities.
